

A Source of Peace - Transboundary Water Management in Central Asia

GIZ Water- related activities in the Amudarya Basin between 2009-2017

Dr. Caroline Milow

A programme funded by

In cooperation with

Historic overview and definition of the Berlin Process

The Berlin Process is an offer of the German Federal Foreign Office to the countries of Central Asia to support them in water management and to make water a subject of intensified transboundary cooperation.

Open to all stakeholders in the Central Asian region

Supplements the EU Strategy for a New Partnership with Central Asia

Main goal: political rapprochement in Central Asia

The three pillars of the Berlin Process

Transboundary Water Management in Central Asia Programme implemented by the Deutsche Gesellschaft für internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH

Water and Climate related Research in the CAWa Project implemented by Geo Forschungszentrum Potsdam and the University of Würzburg

Master Programme “Integrated Water Resources Management” at the German-Kazakh University in Almaty

Cooperation partners: CAREC, UNECE, SIC ICWC

GIZ Programme Phase III

Fostering regional cooperation

Implementation of pilot projects

Strengthening capacities at regional, national & catchment levels

Cooperation with BWO Amudarya

Strengthening
technical capacities

IT equipment

Water measuring devices

Int. water law /
IWRM

Improved regional cooperation

BWO working group established
with participants
from TAJ & TKM

Raising stakeholder awareness

BWO Amudarya
website (2 levels)

Amudarya Day

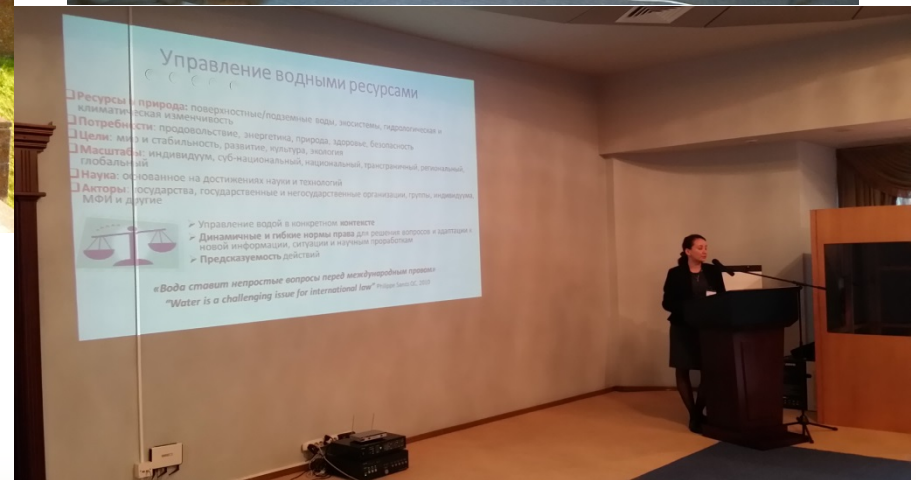

Training

Training on international water law and IWRM May 2016

Amudarya River Day

Tajikistan

25 October 2017

Turkmenistan

10-11 November 2017

Uzbekistan

28-29 November 2017

Amudarya River Day in Tajikistan

In the framework of River Day activities approximately two kilometers of river banks along Vakhsh river were cleaned

Students of Kurgan-Tube planted 400 trees in the desert territory around Institute of Energy in Kurgan-Tube

Amudarya River Day in Tajikistan

120 students participated in school drawing competition

Amudarya River Day in Turkmenistan

In the framework of River Day activities up to 1500 trees were planted near Turkmenabat

Students from 46 schools of Lebap province participated in school drawing competition

Amudarya River Day in Turkmenistan

Scientific conference “Amudarya – the River of Friendship and Cooperation“ gathered around 210 participants in Turkmenabat

Amudarya River Day in Uzbekistan

School children from Urgench participating in the marathon between two water installations along the Amudarya River during celebrations

School children cleaning along Amudarya River in Urgench District

Amudarya River Day in Uzbekistan

School children from Urgench participating in excursions to water objects

Photo and drawing completion has been held on topic “Amudarya river before and today”

Overall objective

- To contribute to sustainable and inclusive growth in the rural sector in Uzbekistan in the context of a changing climate

Specific objective

- To improve the water supply and the efficiency of water resources management at national, basin and farm level

Main Activities

Further improvement of the National water legislation

Establishing a joint forum for all national actors

Improvement of data management & exchange

Capacity building on all levels incl. pilot sites

Development of basin management plans

International Partners

More information available at:

www.auswaertiges-amt.de

www.waterca.org

www.cawa-project.net

www.dku.kz

Central Asian Journal for Water Research at:

www.water-ca.org

Facebook: water governance in Uzbekistan

